

The Liquor-dealers' Association, of Indiana, have endorsed the Democratic State ticket. That was a very natural thing to do. They wouldn't endorse any other ticket.

It is more than probable that the Prohibitionists of the First district will endorse the nomination of Mr. Williams. We understand a majority of the committee are in favor of it.

The convention for the First Congressional district met at Geneva today, and renominated Mr. Williams for Congress. He was nominated on the first ballot, the vote standing 21 to 7.

It appears that Alexander H. Stephens will go in the gubernatorial chair in Georgia by common consent. He will visit four or five of the principal places in the State and make familiar and kindly talks from his rolling chair.

A report comes from New York that Mr. Vanderbilt has wisely, if not timely, decided not to permit any more prize fighting in the Madison Square Garden New York, of which he is a proprietor. As Charles A. Dana, of the New York Sun, is extremely fond of witnessing this refined and intellectual amusement, it is supposed that Vanderbilt takes this method to get even with the proprietor of the Sun, which has been publishing some very ugly articles about him lately.

The storm on Monday night seems to have been particularly severe in Dane county. It rained for nearly eight hours constantly, and the wind reached a velocity of fifty miles an hour. Corn was broken down, grain shocks despoiled, and hundreds of acres of tobacco killed and wholly ruined. At Madison the fury of the storm and the quantity of rain which fell were greater than those of any storm known for years. The lake rose one foot during the night.

General Butler's name is being connected very freely with the Governorship of Massachusetts, but the press of that State is desisting out to him nothing but cold comfort. Poor Ben Butler, though rich in property, politically, he is homeless. He staid with the Republican party till his record got too bad and then he left it. When he got too bad in his ideas about legislation and would vote for anything no matter how extravagant, he naturally became a Democrat and afterward a Greenbacker, and then a Dennis Kearneyite, and finally none of the parties would call him wholly their own. But if he would consent to run for Governor of Massachusetts, on the Democratic ticket, he would do some good. They have very dull campaigns in that State and Uncle Ben would live things up a little. He would make some humorous speeches and spend a good deal of money, and these would do considerable to break up the monotony of political life in the old Bay State. To be sure he would be defeated, but then the poor people in some towns would have a little extra money during the campaign, and the Republicans would have a good deal of real enjoyment in laying the General out. He would run if he could make up his mind there was reasonable chance to win, but he doesn't seem inclined to take the field and give his money to Democratic leaders, and then get badly beaten.

Probably Colonel Dob Ingersoll is right when he says the star route thieves will be acquitted. Whatever may be the result of these trials, the fact will still remain that the government was badly cheated under the administration of Brady; and there is very conclusive proof that Brady himself got some of the stolen money, and that Dorsey came in for a large share. For instance, in what is called the "Pacific section" of the star route service, the following table has been prepared, which will be examined with interest:

	Jan. 1, 1881.	July 1, 1882.	Decrease.
Montana.....	$250,157	$182,500	$67,657
Wyoming.....	127,051	100,427	26,624
Colorado.....	351,451	112,228	239,223
New Mexico.....	171,737	50,000	121,737
Arizona.....	300,232	55,252	244,980
Utah.....	236,157	100,000	136,157
Idaho.....	175,851	70,000	105,851
Washington.....	328,465	100,000	228,465
Oregon.....	325,413	100,000	225,413
Nevada.....	15,283	10,000	5,283
California.....	571,250	200,000	371,250
Total.....	$2,814,105	$1,125,110	$1,688,995

This table shows what a bold swindle Brady and Dorsey were engaged in. On 131 routes which ex-Senator Dorsey took for $143,103, the "expediting" or more properly the swindling, amounted to $450,000. In the Territory of Wyoming, the entire service was let for $51,000 and the contractors will make money at that, while under Brady, one single route in the Territory, and not a very important one either, was let to Dorsey for $100,165! When one reads facts like these it does not take him long to decide the character of Brady and Dorsey, and he will wonder what influences have been used over the jury to say that these public robbers are not guilty. The recently published letter of Dorsey to the late President Garfield, written before he was inaugurated, shows what character of a man Dorsey is. His letter to the late President would disgrace any honest man. He attempts to dictate what kind of men should go into the cabinet, and above all things wants President Garfield not to appoint such men as MacVough or Postmaster James. These were honest men and would set their foot on all swindling schemes, and Dorsey knew it, and therefore opposed them for cabinet positions. With the exception of Tilden and Cronin, our politics has never seen a bolder character than Dorsey, and Brady is not far from the same level.

SENATOR HILL DEAD.

Special to the Gazette.
ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 16.—Senator Hill died at 6 o'clock this morning. At 2 a. m. he was found to be rapidly sinking and his breathing was difficult. He slept, however, until 6, when death occurred from exhaustion, and without a struggle.

EGYPT.

Special to the Gazette.
ALEXANDRIA, Aug. 16.—Five Badouins were killed in a skirmish and Kamleh last night. The Egyptians are reported to be discouraged and the commander at Mok made overtures to surrender. Wolsely issued a proclamation inviting the cooperation of the native chiefs to suppress the rebellion and restore the Khedive to power.

THE STORM.

WATERTOWN, Wis., Aug. 15.—A severe thunder storm visited this county, fifteen miles south of here, last night. At Lake Mills lightning struck the farm of W. H. Raynor and killed a valuable horse and burned the barn, together with farm machinery and hay. Loss, $1,000; partly insured. A barn and a good windmill in the town of Farmington were also struck and destroyed.

THE NEW BONDS.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—For a day or two there have been mysterious rumors floating about the Treasury to the effect that the new bonds were printed wrong and that they would have to be changed in some way or else the regulations of the Treasury would have to be modified. It was said that "nobody had been consulted," and "those fellows over at the Bureau of Engraving had gotten it up as they pleased," etc. It was with difficulty that the real cause of the complaint could be learned, and then it transpired that the new bonds were provided for acknowledgment of transfer before a notary public among other officials. The old bonds were all made in this way, but a question having arisen as to the liability of fraud, the funding bonds were changed. The 4 and 4½ per cent bonds were omitted to specify that transfers of bonds might be acknowledged before a notary public. "The Wadsworths," however, being simply a restatement of the old 5's and 6's, did so promise. Now all the trouble with the new 3 per cent bonds is that, unlike the other funding bonds, they can be transferred legally from one holder to another upon acknowledgment before an ordinary notary public. The chief of the warrant division is inexpressibly shocked, and to his mind the bond is a failure.

FIRES.

EAST SAGINAW, Mich., Aug. 15.—The saw mill owned by W. G. Cogswell at Greene's Station, eight miles west of Saginaw City, was destroyed by fire at 1 o'clock this morning. Loss, $8,000; insured for $2,000.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Aug. 15.—The extensive cooper-shops of the Boyd Manufacturing Company at Higginsport, Ohio were destroyed by fire last night. Loss, $80,000; insurance, $40,000.

DISTRICT, Mich., Aug. 15.—News has been received here that the principal part of the business portion of the Lloyd Manufacturing Company at Highland County, Mich., was destroyed by fire on Sunday. H. M. Elliott and James McKibben, general stores, H. W. Brownell, millinery store, are among the principal losers. The aggregate loss is $13,000, with little insurance. The fire was undoubtedly incendiary.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Aug. 15.—A Western special to the Leader reports locomotive sparks to-day set fire to Michael Young's warehouse, containing $20,000 worth of paper belonging to the Wooster Paper Mills. The loss is estimated at $4,000; insurance, $4,000.

THE UNLIT PROPERTIES OF GOLDEN'S LAGER BEER AND TOXIC INFLUENCE ON THE BODY WITHOUT SOLID FOOD. Golden's Lager Beer.

A HASTY SHOT.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 15.—Ed Winstanley, a special policeman at the Missouri Pacific Railroad depot at Independence, a few miles from Kansas City, shot and killed Marcus Talbott, the baggage-master, about 7 o'clock to-night, under distressing circumstances. Just as the east-bound train from Kansas City reached the Independence depot Winstanley was called upon to arrest a confidence man who had jumped from the train. The officer started in pursuit in cars. The other started in baggage-car one direction and Talbott, the baggage-master, in another. Among a lot of freight cars Winstanley shot Talbott, thinking him the confidence man, and the latter died in thirty minutes. The two were intimate friends, and Winstanley is nearly crazy over his rash act.

TOO MUCH WHISKY.

WATKINS, Aug. 15.—Ned Ralf a wealthy retired farmer, attempted suicide by cutting his throat with a large jackknife. The jugular vein was sewed by a physician, but Ralf pulled it apart with his fingers. Liquor and getting on the brain are the causes. Ralf is said to be worth $30,000.

GOSHEN, THE GIANT.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 15.—Col. North Goshen, the well known giant, made a sensation by an assault with a cane upon John Sweet, a showman, inflicting several scalp wounds, for which he was bound over in $500 for his appearance for trial in September. Sweet says that the trouble grew out of his owning a farm which formerly belonged to the giant, but which he secured by paying off the mortgage upon it. On the other hand, Goshen says that Sweet acted with duplicity and deceit towards him in return for kindness and assistance rendered him. Some two or three years ago Sweet married the widow of Sebastian, a famous circus-rider. He was poor at the time. Goshen offered him and his wife a home upon his New Brunswick farm, which they accepted. While he was on a Pacific tour Goshen's wife and Sweet appropriated over $5,000 in silver which he had in the house, burned up $70,000 worth of bonds, took his gold, valued at $100, and his horse and wagon, and eloped. Goshen got a divorce from his faithless wife, who subsequently married Sweet, and now appears as a sink-chamber at his show. Colonel Goshen further said that while walking along the board walk at the time of the assault, Sweet gave him a malicious grin and used the most vulgar language in reference to Goshen's divorced wife and his mother. The insult to his mother was more than he could stand, and, drawing a pistol, he told him to shoot him, or he would shoot him. He fired in his indignation. He then struck him several times with his cane. After his hearing Goshen left for Cape May to rejoin the circus.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 15.—A dispatch was received to-day by Mr. C. H. Pitcher, of this city, stating that his daughter, Mrs. J. E. Emiling, living at Hayton, near Chilton, on the line of the Wisconsin Central Railroad, fell to her death yesterday, and her clothes taking fire, she was burned to death before aid could reach her.

"Drooping Palms."

Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.: Dear Sir—My wife has suffered with "female weakness" for nearly three years. At times she could hardly move, she had such dragging pains. We often saw your "Favorable Prescription" advertised, but supposed like most patent medicines it did not amount to anything. At last, coincident to try a bottle, which she did. It made her sick at first, but it began to show its effect in a marked improvement, and two bottles cured her. Yours, etc., A. J. HUYCK, Des Moines, N. Y.

Mrs. Charles L. Doering, of Portage, has had her left arm amputated under peculiar circumstances. In the spring of 1881 the lady fell, and, as she supposed, sprained her wrist. In the succeeding January she again fell and hurt the same arm. In a short time a tumor formed on the wrist which the doctors pronounced an aneurism. Later developments tended to convince the physicians that the tumor was malignant, and that amputation was the only remedy, which course was taken. The tumor was about the size of a hen's egg. Its medical name is arterio-sarcoma.

There is a report current, that Florence Herbert, wife of G. Fred Selleck, has left him, and that she will not appear on the stage during the coming season. George is now agent for another company.

A private picnic party, composed of Col. and Mrs. W. B. Britton, Mr. M. T. Lane and wife, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Bennett, and others, left for a trip up the river on the "City of Janesville" this morning.

The Gazette does not particularly object to furnishing news for another paper, but it is laying it on too thick, after an almost verbatim copy of a report, to place our headline at the top of the sheet.

The case against Thomas Muehler for keeping his saloon open on Sunday, was dismissed in the municipal court this forenoon, on the defendant paying costs and promising to be more faithful in the observance of the ordinances hereafter.

Janesville will have two excellent theatrical entertainments at the opera house next week, beginning with the States Attorney Combination, with John Dillon as the leading man next Tuesday, and the "Hidden Hand" on Wednesday.

It will doubtless be remembered that the great showman, W. W. Cole, advertised here for the purchase of one or more fine stallions. He succeeded in getting one, the fine black stallion of Mr. Waterman, of Oregon, Dane Co., which was sold for $800.

Mr. Charles B. Conrad reached home from his European trip yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Conrad will remain in Chicago until Saturday, and then return home. While in Florence, Italy, Mr. Conrad purchased a Madonna painted in 1651 by Vigonli.

Several drunks were arrested yesterday by Marshal Hogan and his aids. Yankee Pat was among the number, and is now sobering up in the county jail, to await his trial to-morrow. William Tru was given five days in jail as a punishment for his spree, and four or five farm hands who had too much circus, were let off with costs.

Judge Patten received a telegram today from Mr. Sloan, of Madison, which brought the sad intelligence that his daughter, Fanny S. Sloan, died last night. The remains will be brought here for interment, and the funeral service will take place on Friday. Due notice in regard to the hour and place will be given. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Sloan in Janesville deeply sympathize with the bereaved parents in the hour of their sad affliction.

Mr. Julius Hamerslag of Chicago has rented the store now occupied by Mr. Leslie Treat, which will be used for a cigar store and factory. Mr. Hamerslag is an enterprising gentleman, and will make his establishment one of the finest Emporiums in the city. He has also rented the Myers residence at the head of Milwaukee street, the terms having been arranged to-day. This important business transaction was effected through the real estate agency of Campbell & Stevens, of this city.

Mr. James Hughes, a resident of Milton, was very much distressed yesterday afternoon over the disappearance of his team of horses and buggy, which he hatched in front of Ethel's store on Main street. He made application to the Marshal, who investigated the affair, but could find no trace of the missing team. This forenoon the rig was found hitched back of Hubbard's on River street, in good condition, though the horses stood in harness all night. There appears to have been only a slight mistake.

Not a Candidate.

To the Editor.

ORTHOVILLE, Wis., Aug. 14th, 1882.

In last week's Gazette I notice in the list of candidates for county offices my name as a candidate for the office of County Clerk. Nothing that I have said or done for some time past would indicate a purpose on my part to take a hand in the coming campaign. On the contrary, realizing that an active canvass of two candidates for county offices from the same town might result injuriously to both of us, and for other reasons, I authorized Mr. Harper to announce in friendly and kind terms that I would not be a candidate in the convention. Thus, so far as I am aware, this town and this part of the county will present no other name to the convention than that of Mr. Harper, for the office of Sheriff. This fact, together with Mr. Harper's acknowledged fitness for the position, ought to secure him the nomination.

Respectfully yours,

C. F. DICKER.

SCHOOLS FOR THE SIGHTLESS.

The National Convention of Educators of the Blind. To-day's Proceedings.

The National Convention of the Educators of the blind, assembled for organization at a few minutes past 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Owing to the absence of President Morrison, the convention was called to order by the secretary Mr. B. B. Hutton. Dr. A. D. Wilber of New York was selected as chairman, and the election of officers was entered upon. There was little or no opposition and the successful candidates were soon declared as follows: President H. A. Gudgeon of North Carolina. Vice Presidents J. J. Dow, Minn., and Miss A. I. Hobart, Wis.

Mr. Walto, of New York, stated that the three oldest institutions for the education of the blind in the United States were just entering upon the completion of the first fifty years of their existence, and he suggested that it would be proper to consider "the work done by them." Mr. Walto afterwards placed his suggestion in the form of a motion, moving that a historian be appointed to prepare a sketch of these institutions and the result of the educational advantages afforded the blind in this country. The motion was carried.

A special committee composed of various superintendents was appointed to decide upon the place of holding the next convention, New York and St. Louis having sent in invitations.

An elaborate and interesting paper was read by Mr. Robinson, of Mich., on the various methods of employing the blind, in useful avocations. The paper contained many practical and valuable suggestions, and was well received. Sometime was occupied in discussion, and the convention took a recess for supper.

YESTERDAY EVENING'S SESSION.

After supper, the convention reassembled. Prof. J. J. Dow, superintendent of the Blind Institute at Parsonage, Minn., read a paper on "Uniformity in Printing for the Blind," showing the necessity of economy in furnishing characters of a uniform nature. The following resolution was introduced by W. B. Waite, and adopted:

Resolved, That on all questions coming before the Association, each member shall be entitled to one vote, unless otherwise ordered by the majority of the members present.

The following committee was appointed to draft suitable resolutions of respect for deceased members: J. F. McCune, W. B. Wilson and Mrs. A. D. Lord.

Lectures were read from President Morrison and Prof. Morris, of Baltimore, and P. Lane, of Baton Rouge, La., expressing regret at their inability to attend the convention.

Prof. Ambrose Shotwell, of the Little Rock, Ark. Institute, read an interesting paper on "Silk culture, as an employment for blind women." He promised with a statement upon the silk product, as estimated in the last report of the American Silk Association, and touching at length upon the most approved methods of silk culture, demonstrated the feasibility of blind women engaging in the pursuit with profit. The paper excited an interesting discussion, indulged in by several members, and adjournment was taken to this morning.

MORNING SESSION.

The proceedings were opened this morning with prayer by Dr. Tarsha of Ills. A paper on the "Superiority of the New York Point over the Libe Letter," was read by Miss Fanny Mc Elroy, Miss H. A. Babcock of New York City, delivered an essay on the methods of facilitating the musical instruction of the blind. Miss Babcock in her paper dwelt upon the importance which the cultivation of a talent for music exercised over the faculties of the blind, developing as it does taste and keenness of perception, and opens up a mine of intellectual enjoyment, which the mere performance of the notes could never afford. The great range of musical composition affords an opportunity for the exercise of the inventive faculty. The student having been carefully instructed in all the technical features of music, and having been made acquainted practically with the system of notation used by the seeing student, and having in his possession an ever increasing repertory of music in the point of notation he is prepared with a measure securing a livelihood, and is enabled to compete successfully with seeing teachers in this calling. Miss Babcock discoursed also upon the social pleasures enjoyed by the blind, with a musical education, and enumerated the different systems now in use for the education in music of the blind, adding some valuable suggestions of her own.

At 11:30 o'clock a recess was taken. The Board of Trustees of the American printing house for the blind was called for 2 o'clock the Board met, Dr. Phillips in the chair.

A report of the executive committee advising the repeal of a resolution adopted at a previous meeting that requisitions for books or apparatus not printed or constructed at the American Printing House for the blind, might be made by any Institution to an amount not exceeding twenty per cent. of the money quota of the Institution making such requisition, for the fiscal year in which it shall be made, was read by the secretary.

The report excited much debate, and Secretary Hutton was asked to explain why the repeal of the resolution was desired. Mr. Hutton gave an account of the present condition of the printing house, and stated that unless the institution was better patronized it would become necessary to curtail its facilities.

Mrs. Little thought the question should be brought before the convention.

How Reidsville, N. C., has prospered.

We announced last week that two of our young townsmen, Messrs. E. E. Richardson and Joseph Lyles, were the successful competitors in the July drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery, the amount $10,000 in actual cash, has been received and deposited in the Reidsville Bank. This is one of the most successful speculations that was ever known in our enterprising town, and we congratulate our young friends who take their good fortune in so easy and matter of fact manner. Mr. Richardson informs us that it was a plain open landed trust transaction, he invested $20 for tickets, and at the regular drawing it was announced that his number was the "lucky one," in a few days he was informed of the fact, and without trouble he sent the ticket to New Orleans, had it presented at the office of the Company, was cashed, and in due time a package came to their address by Express containing the money in currency.—Reidsville, N. C., Webster's Dollar Weekly, July 25.

A BIG SHOW.

Cole's Circus in Janesville. Gives Two Fine Performances.

The last act in the circus last night, had received its meed of applause, an array of workmen were engaged removing supports, packing and bundling the thousands of accessories to the show, and when the last visitor had left the after concert, the mammoth tent, which but a few moments before had sheltered a pleased thousands, was a shapeless mass, flapping its great white sides loosely up on the grass. The gay trappings of the animals and bright dresses of the riders, together with motley costumes of the clowns were on the way to the depot and in the lurid glare of torches, men moved quickly about gathering together all the immense paraphernalia. Within an hour there was not a trace of the great tent, accoutrements or caravan to be seen. All had gone towards the depot on their way to delight other thousands. The two performances given here yesterday were well worth the price of admission. The attendance was large at both, the evening performance particularly being crowded, the spectators numbering over 3,000 people. For two hours the performance continued, feats of strength and agility following in rapid succession during equestrian acts; marvelous performances of trapezists in mid-air, expert exhibitions of a variety of specialists, astonishing evidences of animal sense, with running through all the laughable utterances and demeanor of the clowns, made up an entertainment of rare excellence. The performing elephants were in themselves a big attraction, and the snake charmer's toy with the huge slimy reptiles was also a good feature. Mr. Conklin's exhibition in the lion's cage, feeding three ferocious looking wild beasts with raw meat, tantalizing them into an appetite for more, and then lashing them with a whip into abject submission and servility was loudly applauded as evidence of man's right to the title of lord of the universe. The performing stallions now cantering about the ring, or kneeling in obedience to the word of command, bowing to the audience and making their exit in a rearing position, was also a finer feature. One of the most pleasing points was the roller skating where after a graceful exhibition of expertness, one of the skaters imitates a novice in skating, and creates a furor of laughter by his ludicrous inability to exercise control over his slippery feet.

The tumbling, leaping, bare-back riding and indeed everything on the programme was of the finest quality. Captain Bogard's exhibition of glass ball shooting, and the performances with the rifle by his two sons, one a six years old, were well received. Cole has a big show and certainly deserves the immense patronage he is receiving.

Success is the best evidence of merit and Cole is successful.
